So the reason the pool was so bad was because the filter failed and it wasn't fixed. What we did was a rinse and repeat process. We x jet pale bleached the pool. Then pressure rinsed it to the bottom and then manually pumped all of that into the second pool and then dropped the supplied sum pump into the bottom drain of the activity pool and pumped it over the fence and into the drain in the back. The big pool was done 3 times, the activity pool was done once. We couldn't use the sum pump on the big pool because it only pumped down to about 6 inches which wasn't enough to clear everything out. We tried shoveling it into trash bags but after two we switched to the above plan. We began filling the large pool at 2:00pm. I will supply a picture of the progress as we leave.
